

ACE Interactive receives order for 1,000 additional gaming terminals from Norsk Tipping

Stockholm, 6th January, 2009 – Aristocrat Leisure Limited announced that its fully owned subsidiary Ace Interactive has received an order for 1,000 Indago™ interactive Video Terminals (iVT's) from Norsk Tipping, the Norwegian National Lottery. These terminals will be installed as part of an anticipated network of over 6,500 terminals throughout Norway.

The supply of these Indago iVT's is part of the True Server Based Gaming project between Ace Interactive and Norsk Tipping.

„We are thankful for Norsk Tipping's trust in our TruServ™ system and the confidence expressed by this additional order of 1,000 Indago iVT's from ACE Interactive. After having launched the system in August 2008 and successfully concluded the pilot phase, all focus is now on rolling the terminals out throughout Norway,“ said ACE Interactive's CEO, Michael Koch.

The Indago iVT, with its uniquely appealing design, will be placed in locations throughout Norway and be operated and managed using the TruServ server based gaming central system which is located and operated by Norsk Tipping in Hamar, Norway.

ACE Interactive will be demonstrating the full capabilities of TruServ on both Indago and Viridian™, alongside parent company Aristocrat, on stand 3410 at London's International Gaming Expo, across 27-29 January.